meet Jamilah

Jamilah desired to launch her business as an education consultant. She struggled with designing her own site using templates, clearly flushing out her brand and connecting all the components she offered seamlessly.

Together we created a brand & web presence that would position her as an expert in education and social justice.

MEET JAMILAH PITTS

Jamilah Pitts is an educator, yoga teacher and writer who resides in New York City. She currently serves as the Founding High School Assistant Principal at East Harlem Scholars Academy High School. A native of Columbus, Ohio, she has taught in the Dominican Republic, China, Boston, and New York City. Jamilah sees education as her life's work and calling and truly believes that education should be an avenue through which empathy, healing and justice are promoted.

She threads her passion for human rights and social justice into her teaching, writing, scholarship and other artistic pursuits. Jamilah holds degrees from Spelman College, Boston College, and is pursuing an additional graduate degree at Teachers College, Columbia University. Jamilah is a Woodrow Wilson National Teaching Fellow, Donovan Urban Teaching Scholar, a Fund for Teachers Fellow, where she conducted research on human rights education in India, and was recently appointed to serve on the Teaching Tolerance Advisory Board.

HOW MUCH NEW ARE YOU BRINGING TO THE TABLE?

We all walk around feeling like we have the best of intentions with what we do and say, but is that the case when it comes to human connection?

Are you looking to make change... but still rely on your daily habits and places of comfort to do so? How much "new" are you bringing to the table to actually create "new" and to be "new"?

Hi, I am Khadijah Lyons!

I leverage my empathy, expertise and experiences to disrupt exclusivity & overemphasized narratives so that diverse and untapped talent can experience increased privilege, inclusion and belonging in our working environments.

DID YOU KNOW?

85% of U.S. employees are not fully engaged at work. This is a massive issue for organizations looking to attract, retain and develop top talent. Research shows that disengaged employees cost companies billions of dollars each year in lost productivity, turnover and absenteeism. It's time to take action and create a more engaged workforce.

meet Dr. Clark

Dr. Clark had a vision to birth a non profit that supported women on their mental and spiritual journey. She desired a site that drew in and supported a community with courses, services music and membership. She DIYed a site on her own but struggled with creating a cohesive brand that would excite.

Together we created a brand & web presence that would position her as an expert coach in mental health & wellness.

meet Krystal

Krystal Allen, founder & CEO of K. Allen Consulting had a vision to reposition her site to offer more cohesive information and have more functionality. She wanted a site that drew in first timers with services, highlighted community impact & her massive list of clients, as well as have member login functions. She DIYed a site on her own but struggled with creating a cohesive brand that felt elevated and representative of her level of expertise.

Together we created a brand & web presence that would position K. Allen Consulting as the go-to education and operations management firm and position their services for consistent 4-figure business clientele.

meet The Peaks

Willie and Melanie Peak have been in business for over 10 years; making memories and serving their steady client base by word of mouth. The Peaks desired to launch their business to the public and market their skills to produce mass orders. They struggled with DIY templates and were unsure how to build a convertible brand from scratch.

Together we created a brand & web presence that would showcase The Peaks as a high quality family business.
